

Here Come the Brides

"The Bulletin Board," New Era, Nov. 1997, 38

The Young Women in the Minot First and Second Branches, Bismarck North Dakota Stake, aren't headed to the temple just yet, but they decided to talk about the importance of modesty and temple marriage. Several of the young women modeled the wedding dresses of women in their branch, all of which were both modest and beautiful. For refreshments, they had—what else?—wedding cake.
